

Knights' Tournament at Kenilworth Castle

Meet the knights!

Red Knight of the South: Sir James D'ambrey

A tournament veteran. Comfortable with a variety of weapons though rarely seen without his father's Great sword. Sir James lives for battle and has a brutal reputation for letting nothing get in his way of winning. Odds are rarely against him though he's known to excel in the battle of the barriers and crest melee.

Green Knight of the West: Sir Guy De Mowbray

Noble to a fault Sir Guy is no stranger to the tournament field, known for honour during battle and upholding the code of chivalry at all times. A keen hunter means that he is skilled with a sword and a bow, making him a well rounded, versatile warrior.

Blue Knight of the North: Sir Adrian Huetson

New to the field with no reputation formed Sir Adrian is loud and brash and, whilst noble born, prefers the company of soldiers to his fellow knights. Young and itching for battle he will always fight until there is no fight left and stop at nothing to get the glory of winning.

Gold Knight of the East: Sir Edward Pattinson

As a member of the Pattinson family Sir Edward has everything he could ever want. Rich beyond measure Sir Edward has found himself on the tournament field in search of a glory that money can't buy. Many years spent training with a sword has prepared him well for the tournament field. But will his ego be his downfall or his making?

Visit english-heritage.org.uk/events or call 0370 333 1183