I am sniffing around the garden and park. Come and explore with me.

● View from South Terrace

Humphry Repton designed Kenwood's garden. He hid fences to make it seem that the grounds stretched all the way to central London.

What makes this a lovely view?

This is a great place to play games!

Who knows "What's the time Mr Wolf" or Stuck in the Mud?
Ask someone if you don't know!

Henry Moore

3 Henry Moore statue

Kenwood is famous for its historic paintings, so you might be surprised to find modern sculptures in the grounds.

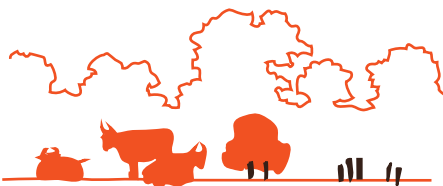

What shapes can you see in the statue?

4 Dairy

Can you spy Kenwood's dairy?

It is up the hill near the car park. They had their own cows here in the 1700s to make butter and cream.

If you'd visited then, what would smell, feel here?

Walk through the woods

The estate wood is very old. It has about 6,000 trees and many other plants. They change through the seasons.

What can you see today?

Look out for ancient trees with amazing textured bark.

Use your pencil to make a rubbing of one here.

6 Bridge

Spot the white bridge.

Look out for anything strange about it.*

If you are lucky you might be able to see these birds.

Tick them off if you do.

*it's a fake!

The Service Wing

The service wing is where the hard work happened to run Kenwood. The staff cooked big meals for parties – and then maids scrubbed all the pots with no washing up liquid!

Circle what you think they used instead.*

The kitchen is my favourite place – I can smell the sausages!

When you've completed all the activities, collect a sticker from the shop. Have you looked inside the house?
